No. 12-2018

FILCOM LEADERS OF CHICAGO MEET CONSUL GENERAL JAMORALIN

The Consulate General of the Philippines in Chicago reports that a special event was held for Consul General Gina A. Jamoralin to meet and greet the Filipino-American Community leaders of greater Chicagoland on 22 February 2018 at the Kalayaan Hall of the Consulate General.

Consul Ericka Anna T. Abad formally introduced the Consul General to the FilCom leaders representing around twenty (20) organizations from the community, business sector and local media highlighting her academic background and career in the Foreign Service. The Consul General then delivered a brief message outlining some of the priority projects she intends to pursue for the year toward greater engagement with the younger generation of Filipino-Americans and the business community. During the dialogue that ensued between the Consul General and the FilCom leaders, the latter expressed their warm welcome and introduced their respective organizations and advocacies.

Among the things raised were updates on Philippine economy, the ongoing overseas voter registration and the upcoming 12th Ambassadors' Tour. Consul General Jamoralin encouraged everyone to enhance the understanding and appreciation of Filipino culture by joining the Tour.

Consul General Jamoralin further emphasized the importance of cooperation and commitment between the Consulate General and the fast-growing Filipino community in the Midwest.

Photo opportunities and a reception followed. Filipino brands namely Red Ribbon, Jollibee and Malagos Chocolate contributed to the festive atmosphere of the event.
